REGISTRATION ACT HELD INVALID BY APPELLATE COURT

Injunction Granted By Court of Appeals Throwing General Registration Into the Discard—Thousands of Dollars Lost to Counties.

Frankfort, Ky., June 29. — The general registration act of 1922, requiring all voters to register in ever precinct in the state the second Monday and Tuesday in July, was held unconstitutional by Chief Justice Rollin Hurt of the Court of Appeals this afternoon, granting an injunction to J. M. Perkins, prominent Republican of Frankfort, to restrain the Franklin County Board of Election Commissioners from holding the registration. The suit was backed by the Republican state organization.

All the judges of the Court of Appeals considered the case with the Chief Justice, and all concurred in the conclusion, excepting Judge William Rogers Clay of this district, who filed a dissenting opinion.

The act was held unconstitutional because it does not provide for a special registration outside cities for special elections or for a special registration of public officers, militiamen, jurors and others, whose duties prevent them from registering on the regular registration day.

This decision disposes of the general registration, but an interesting aftermath of the suit involves the payment of about $90,000 for the registration books, sent to the county clerks. The Standard Printing Company, Bradley-Gilbert Company and C. T. Dearing Company of Louisville, bound an equal number of the books, about 15,000 in all. The work was done under the supervision of the Board of Registration Commissioners, created by the act, composed of Secretary of State Fred A. Vaughan, and the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican State Committees. They were, of course, required to act in time to get the books to the County Clerks before the registration. The law provides that the counties shall pay for their own books, and the clerks notified the printers of the numbers they needed. It is apprehended that counties may resist payment, and it is doubted whether the state may reimburse the printers without legislative sanction. In consequence of this situation further litigation may follow the action of the court in the injunction case today.

The General Registration Act was put through the General Assembly as a party measure and was vetoed by Governor Morrow. It was then passed over his veto. The outcome of the suit, naturally has given great satisfaction to the Republicans.

CHILDREN CONDUCT SPECIAL PROGRAM AT TENT REVIVAL

Thursday Night's Program at Revival Tent Given By Children Trained By Evangelistic Party.

A special feature of the tent service Thursday evening was a program given by the boys and girls. It consisted of choruses scripture serves and practical applications to the scripture. The young people have enjoyed very much their training under Mrs. Cox and they show great interest in the learning of the scriptures. Mrs. Cox has done splendid work while here as was shown by the program Thursday night.

Following the program a Testament was given to the largest family present. This was presented to Rev. Howard.

Since it was family night Evangelist Howard preached on "The Home" taking as his text Isaiah 38:3: "Set thine house in order for thou shalt die."

"The dearest spot on earth is home. It is an institution for the happiness of man. The home makes possible the welfare of other institutions. It is a character builder. The marks of home will always be detected in your life. Home is a unit of the nation. From it the state, the churches, and public schools arise. The question of faith in God is settled in the home. Many parents today manifest no interest as to where their children go. Many a boy is following in the tracks of his father. Where are you leading him? Some day your children will be gathered around your death bed and what will they say of you? Have they ever heard you pray?"

"The Bible says: 'Train up a child in the way he should go and in after years he will not depart from it.' Training a child means helping it to put in practice the things you teach it. Parental authority is weakening. If you would blot out drunkards and law breakers from the nation don't raise them in your home. The boy who obeys at home will not break the laws of school, state, or nation. If you were going to set your house in order where would you begin? Have you dedicated your home to God? Is your house in order?"

There will be preaching at the tent Friday afternoon by Mr. Harney Wilson.

The revival will close Sunday evening, so don't miss any of the services. Friday night a Bible will be given to the oldest man or woman present. Let all the older folks come.

LOST IN AFRICAN JUNGLES.

How would you like to be sent into the African jungles in search of Dr. Livingston, then get lost yourself among wild animals and cannibals? This is the fate of Geo. Walsh at the Pastime Friday, U. S. History picture.

REV. RILEY WILL SUBSTITUTE FOR COL. GEO. W. BAIN

Aged Orator Unable to Fill Ruggles Engagement on Account of Illness—Live-Wire Englishman to Speak Instead.

Once more the Rev. Fred Riley the popular little English preacher of Aberdeen has been called upon and has accepted the invitation to fill the place of a big man on a big occasion. Word was received Thursday of the illness of Col. Geo. W. Bain who was to have spoken at Ruggles Camp grounds July Fourth. While his illness is not severe yet because of his advanced age, being 82, his family thought it best for him not to chance the trip here from Lexington and the exertion of making a big speech. Of course this came as a great shock to the Old Settlers. All were looking forward with joy at the privilege of hearing Col. Bain once more. As the Fourth is so near something had to be done immediately. A hurry call was sent to Rev. Riley who is in Delaware, Ohio, this week, to come to the relief of the situation. A telegram was received from him Thursday stating he would be pleased to address the Old Settlers on the Fourth. This news brought great joy. Rev. Riley so pleased the Mason County Sunday School Convention when he filled the place of Supt. Colvin that it goes without saying that he will make good at Ruggles. Rev. Riley's experiences as a British soldier during the World War are ever interesting. This will be his first Fourth of July in America and it will no doubt be interesting to hear his impressions of our country after having lived here but ten months. Those who intended going to Ruggles to hear Col. Bain will not be disappointed when they hear Riley. Everyone who has heard him will make the same testimony.

Col. W. H. Thomas, acting president of the Old Settlers, stated Thursday that everything was in readiness for the big day. He says the camp grounds are very pretty this year. The Tollesboro band is keyed up for their very best. Prof. Holton, the other speaker for the day, is all ready for his part. Those who spend the Fourth at Ruggles will be the ones who will really enjoy the Nation's birthday in the true patriotic way.

MISS BEECHWOOD IN MERZ BROTHERS' WINDOW.

Merz Brothers' West Second street window is creating considerable comments and compliments. Miss Beechwood, clad in her bathing togs, sits on the sandy beach along the water shore. The window is most attractive and timely. It not only displays this popular store's splendid line of bathing suits but nearby hanging on the line is the young lady's entire outfit selected for the best enjoyment of the park from Merz Brother's big stock.

OVER 600 POUNDS OF FISH.

The Manchester Signal says: Several hundred people gathered at the west end of the old fair ground now owned by Boone Reed to watch Mr. Reed and his assistants father in over three hundred pounds of fish from the fair ground pond. About the same amount was taken on Monday. Through the clogging of the outlet drain pipe the pond overflowed the road, necessitating the draining of it. He will repair the drain and let it fill.

ABERDEEN BOY IS CARTOONIST.

This week's issue of the Manchester Signal carries a cartoon drawn by Luman M. Winter, fourteen-year-old son of William Winter of Aberdeen, which shows wonderful ability at drawing. This young man is a constant worker, putting in all of his spare time at experiments of all sorts. He is operating a Radio outfit which he made himself and is enabled to hear all of the big concerts.

Hon. William Jennings Bryan passed through the city Friday en route to Augusta where he speaks on the chautauqua program Friday. Mr. Bryan, the great Commoner, stopped off in Maysville for a few minutes with his friend Mr. George H. Frank and met several other friends while here.

The many little friends of little Miss Ellen Parley will be very sorry to learn that she is quite ill at her home in East Second street.

UNION SERVICES IN COURT HOUSE YARD

First of Series of Out-door Sunday Night Services to be Held Next Sunday—Rev. Peters Will Preach.

The first of a series of union out-door services will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. on the court house lawn. A large platform has been built upon which all members of all the church choirs are expected to be for each service. "Victory Songs" the popular Rodeo song book used by so many of our churches will be used in these services. Songs that everybody can sing will be used. It will be a popular service as well as a service of real help.

Rev. Peters, pastor of Third Street M. E. church, will preach the first sermon. Everybody invited and made welcome. Chairs will be provided for all. Every effort possible will be made to make people comfortable. Those who complain about it being too hot to go to church Sunday evening will have no chance to work that excuse any longer. We will have the comforts of a camp meeting right in the heart of our town.

GOOD NEWS FOR MAYSVILLE PEOPLE.

Arn Brothers just stated that they are determined that every man, woman and child must drink some of their fine Iced Tea, so have decided to reduce the price on their Orange Pekoe, fancy mixed, and Young Hyson "Tea". 20 cents a quarter pound instead of 25 cents a quarter pound. They better have plenty of tea if they are going to sell these high grade Teas at that low price.

FORMER LEWIS COUNTY DOCTOR ACCIDENTALLY SHOTS SELF.

Word reaches us that Dr. H. H. Pettry, formerly of Randolph, but lately of Colonel, W. Va., accidentally shot himself late Tuesday and died in a few minutes. He had carried a pistol in a holster for some years and was treating the injured foot of his little son, stooping over when in some unaccountable manner the gun went off and the bullet severed the main artery in the right leg. This is indeed regrettable as Dr. Pettry was the father of a large family of children, an excellent physician and a good man and neighbor. His frigid here will sorrow at his untimely death.

ANDERSON CLEARED OF SERIOUS CHARGE.

Everett Anderson, colored, went clear in City Court Thursday afternoon on a charge of aiding the escape of a fugitive. Anderson proved that he was not aiding Edgar to escape but merely took him to the office of a physician for treatment following the escape. On this evidence Judge Curran released Anderson.

NANNIE SOISTER, NOT ANNA FACING SERIOUS CHARGE.

Because of a similarity of names there has been some confusion in getting the name of the woman, grandmother of the infant whose body was found in a Lewis county well and who has been held for the charge. The woman held is Nannie Soister, wife of Lonnie Soister and not Anna Soister, wife of Thomas Soister.

SATURDAY DERBY DAY AT LATONIA TRACKS

Saturday is Derby Day at Latonia and an unusually large crowd of local sports and devotees of the turf will spend the day at the Kentucky Jockey Club's beautiful race course. Interest in the Derby is very high in Maysville and vicinity this year.

BEECHWOOD PARK OPENS FRIDAY; BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Beautiful Amusement Park Thrown Open to the Public Friday Afternoon—Many Expected on the Grounds Tonight.

Beechwood Park will be opened to the public an amusement park for the first time Friday and while the formal opening will be at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon, the big crowd is not expected until Friday night at which time it is expected there will be hundreds on hand to give the new park an inspection.

The bathing beach will be in operation with the bath house complete with all of its conveniences. That this beach is to be one of the most popular places in Maysville or vicinity is forecast by the large sale of bathing suits at the local shops this week. There will be plenty of suits for rent at the beach house for those who do not desire to purchase their own equipment.

According to the schedule there will be free dancing Friday evening in the pavilion and a free moving picture show in the open-air natural theater. In addition to these features there will be games of all sorts in progress on the various game grounds and the play grounds will be in full operation.

Tickets are to be purchased for 15 cents from street car conductors, these tickets pay the car fare to the park and the admission fee. All children under 9 years of age will be admitted to the park free when accompanied by paid admission.

NOTICE.

There will be a moonlight fete on Friday night on Mr. Stevenson's farm on Hill City pike, near intersection of Fleming pike, just east of city. Everybody invited. 25June31

TWENTY YEAR OLD NEWS ITEM.

Both of the local morning papers came in for a "string" Friday morning when they carried from the Bracken Chronicle's items of 1902 an account of the death of Mr. J. E. Thompson, for many years editor of the Bracken Chronicle. One of the papers said the death occurred last week, when as a matter of fact it occurred just twenty years ago, in 1902. We have been advised that the present editor of the Bracken Chronicle is in the best of health and thinking little about writing his "Thirty" soon.

Mr. J. A. Thompson, editor of the Ripley Bee, was in Maysville Friday on business.

SETTLEMENT OF RAIL STRIKE NOW SEEMS PROBABLE

Railroad Executives and Union Leaders Meet Friday to Reach a Compromise on Strike Scheduled For Saturday.

Chicago, June 30. — A compromise to prevent the strike of 400,000 railroad shopmen tomorrow was sought by the Railroad Labor Board today in a conference with union heads and executives.

It was predicted such an agreement would be reached.

Reports that an agreement already had been reached at private conferences between Ben Hooper, chairman of the board, with union leaders and railway managers, were current today.

It was predicted that by the proposed compromise rail executives would discontinue the practice of farming out shop work and the unions would accept the $60,000,000 wage cut ordered by the Labor Board.

Despite the hope for agreement, preparations for a walkout continued today.

Railroads advertised for "guards" in Chicago.

The executives also planned to throw all the shop work in the country under the contract system in case of a strike.

Union chiefs prepared last-minute orders for the men in case the strike should become effective.

BABY FREYHOFF.

Relatives here have been advised of the birth Friday morning to Dr. and Mrs. William Freyhoff at their home in Cincinnati of a fine baby girl. Before her marriage Mrs. Freyhoff was Miss Mary Owens Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Keith, of this city.

JOHN W. YERKES

John W. Yerkes, who died at Danville Friday afternoon, was greatly beloved by all who were fortunate enough to enjoy an intimate acquaintance with him and equally respected by every person who knew him even casually.

Mr. Yerkes was a man of splendid natural endowments. These he had broadened by study, by a wide acquaintance with men and events and by unusual powers of observation and analysis.

Had Mr. Yerkes been more of a politician, in the best expression of that word, and less of an idealist, less of a strict conformist to certain inherent and temperamental theories of living and public service, he would have been far more conspicuous than he was in all the walks of life. By nature a diffident man, he never acquired, nor sought to become clever in, the art of making friends or admirers for practical purposes.

In 1900 Mr. Yerkes made a most noteworthy race for Governor. The nomination was tendered to him with no effort on his part to secure it, and notwithstanding the heat and bitterness of the period immediately following the unfortunate assassination of Senator Goebel, he polled upwards of 40,000 more votes than were ever before given to a Republican nominee for that office.

Subsequently President McKinley appointed Mr. Yerkes Commissioner of Internal Revenue. He at once took high rank among public men at Washington who were concerned with subjects relating to revenue and taxation. At the death of Mr. McKinley, Mr. Roosevelt requested him to remain in the office to which Mr. McKinley had called him. During the ensuing four years Mr. Yerkes was helpful as a dignified exponent of the best element of Republicanism in the Southern states and was regarded by Southern leaders as their ablest and most conspicuous representative at the seat of government. At the beginning of the second Roosevelt administration, some gentlemen of influence and standing in a number of the Southern states, aided by others not of the South, and absolutely without his knowledge sought to have Mr. Yerkes invited into the new cabinet. Except for an unfortunate division in the party in Kentucky, which was marked by considerable bitterness, these plans, it is believed, would have been successful. President Roosevelt insisted that Mr. Yerkes remain in the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue and he rendered valuable assistance in the reshaping of important legislation affecting the public revenues.

Mr. Yerkes was a man of most delightful personality. Equipped natively and by culture for success in any field, he was a conversationalist of rare qualities, and in the presence of those with whom he was upon terms of pleasant intimacy he was a companion of extraordinary interest and sweetness. He was fond of his home and of people, and he was a friend upon whom every reliance could steadfastly be placed.

The good deeds which Mr. Yerkes did in this life he did with that same lack of display which characterized him always. There was nothing in his public career or in his private life of which he had reason to be ashamed. He was honorable and upright in all of his dealings with men and his philosophy of life was based always and ever upon a remarkably just appreciation of the rights of others. There was no cant or hypocrisy about him. He was always what he was. Nothing more, nothing less.

The writer of these lines was for four years in Washington Mr. Yerkes' private secretary and for many years, he is proud to say, his intimate and trusted friend. Therefore, he knows whereof he speaks. —Harry Giovannoli in the Lexington Leader.

Mason county farmers appear to be in the humor of organizing. "Welt am Montag," or, in American terms, "The World on Monday," calls J. Pierpont Morgan the uncrowned kaiser of the earth. Considering the day of publication, the Berlin periodical must be a blue sheet.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle thinks America will adopt spiritism in the next ten years, but probably under the name of Psychic Christianity. This is the first pessimistic prophecy that we've heard in years.

Boston Transcript—Russia has an army of more than a million men, and apparently would like to have the United States feed and clothe it.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — If a person wants to learn how to be joyous though jobless, he must find a way of being invited in some evening between midnight and 2 a. m. to the workshop of Leon Vart, in West Forty-sixth street. It is the intimate gathering place of all the Russian artists — dancers, actors, singers and all the rest — who are in Manhattan right now, either at work or as refugees. And it is, I should say at a venture, the center of the most spontaneous gaiety in this big town. The successful people of Chauve Souris, who came here as an experiment and find themselves the toast of the town, the singers from the Russian Opera Troupe, now singing at the Second Avenue Theater, some of the Russians from the Metropolitan — they all gather there to amuse themselves and each other, and with them — just as amusing, just as light of heart so far as one can see, are those who have fled the new regime in their country and are waiting and searching for some kind of work to earn their daily bread. Anyone who has acquired an idea that Russian art means gloom ought to be allowed an ear at Leon Vart's keyhole any night.

A competition for a piece of sculpture symbolizing "Co-Operation" will shortly be announced by the Hotel Commonwealth, now under construction. The management and architects have stated that art, and American art, at that, is to direct the finishing and furnishing of the hotel interior, and that it is to be a radical departure from the gift and gaudiness of the old established hotel plan of decoration. The figure or group denoting the spirit of co-operation, under which the hotel is built, will have the dominant place in the big ground floor lounge. The competition will be open to every sculptor in the country and a considerable prize will be awarded as well as the purchase of the work. The Commonwealth is co-operatively built and owned by several thousand shareholders.

What has become of the youthful wild-oat power? The ne'er do well but gilded youth who wasted his father's money on the white lights and their various lures, while his name stood for a constant accumulation of wild escapades? He's vanished; that's all. And in his place has come — the middle-aged wild-oater. Whether the war made youth more serious; whether fathers of this decade have cut down on allowances; or whether it's just a part of the world's queer turn-over, I don't know. But certainly the man you see dining the show-girl in the restaurants today is not the youth who dined her ten years ago; it is the man over forty. The host at motor and roadhouse parties, where the pop is ice-cooled bottles is heard still, regardless of Mr. Volstead, has reached those same years. Here is one explanation I had given me, which may or may not be true: the "flapper," the young girl in the youth's own crowd, is as "good fun" today as the show-girl, whereas she didn't use to be. Moreover it's this flapper who is just as happy eating at Child's or from a "hot-dog" wagon as she is in the Palais Royale. Therefore, the young fellow sticks to his own sister's friends and saves money, keeping out of escapades at the same time, while the "old duffer" continues to find in another life the excitement he can't get at home.

The Type Used in One Year to Publish Endorsements of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Of the many kidney remedies on the market today, none other is recommended like Doan's Kidney Pills. Fifty thousand benefited people gladly testify in the newspapers of the own towns. Forty-five hundred American newspapers publish this home proof of Doan's merit. The type used in one year to tell this wonderful story would make a solid column of metal twice as high as the world's highest mountain. Placed end to end the lines of type would reach from New York to Chicago. These miles of good words told by 50,000 tongues sound glad tidings to any Maysville sufferer who wants relief from kidney and bladder ills. Here's a Maysville case. Don't experiment. Use the remedy endorsed by people you know.

E. S. Lee, proprietor grocery store, 322 Market street, says: "I think Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine remedy and gladly recommend them. I use them every now and then when my kidneys get out of order or my back gets to hurting and the ysoon relieve the trouble. Doan's tone up my system and give me better health generally by ever time I use them."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mr. Lee had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Evidently the thing necessary to prevent too much curiosity about the world is the preventing young people from seeing too clearly. Jerome C. Smiley, of West 180th street, spent the first eight years of his life in quiet obedience and willingness to stay at home. Then a teacher told his parents that his vision was poor and they fitted him with spectacles. That was only a short time ago. Since then, although he has forged ahead brilliantly at school, he has run away three times. The world is so interesting now that he sees it well that he just can't quell his desire to see as much of it as possible.

This is the season of the year when farm boys and girls in all parts of the state who are members of junior agricultural clubs are holding their annual picnics and outings. Forty members of the Farmington club in Graves county recently held theirs and enjoyed games, swimming and a picnic dinner. County Agent B. H. Mitchell reports.

One of the largest delegations of farm boys and girls that came from any one county of the state to attend the second annual "Junior Week" recently held at Lexington by the College of Agriculture came from Lewis county. Eighteen boys and girls from there accompanied by County Agent R. O. Bate and several local leaders attended.

Lively interest is being taken in a pure-bred pig club recently organized in Leslie county marks the latest step being taken in that section for improved livestock. County Agent T. L. Britton says. Farm boys and girls in the county will feed 20 pigs, 16 of which are purebred Poland Chinas, during the summer as their junior agricultural club project.

Farm boys and girls in Todd county are showing increased interest in junior agricultural club work. County Agent I. C. Graddy reports. In 1921, only 35 members were enrolled while this year approximately 125 already have been enrolled to carry on some definite farm or home project.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Richmond, Va., June 27th, 1922

To the Employees of The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company:

While no official notification has been given this Company, the newspapers carry as an item of news the information that certain classes of our employees have been requested to vote on the question of whether or not they will accept certain rulings of the United States Railroad Labor Board. Insofar as shop men are concerned, I understand that they are requested to vote upon the following questions:

1. Whether they will accord to the railroads the right to have piece-work done in their shops; also whether they will accord to the railroads the right to contract their shop plants to outsiders.

As this Company has not asked its employees to accept the piece-work basis and has not contracted with anybody to work its shops, there are no questions of that kind pending so far as it is concerned, and there is, consequently, no occasion for balloting on the question of striking on account of such grievances.

2. Whether they will abide by rules 6, 10, 12, 14, 15, 46 and 177, contained in Decision No. 222 and Addendum 6 thereto of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

3. Whether they will abide by United States Railroad Labor Board Decision No. 1038, providing for a reduction in their pay effective July 1st, 1922. I understand that the other employees who are being asked to vote are also aggrieved at other decisions of the Labor Board affecting them.

The decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board so questioned were rendered after due investigations and hearings, at which all were represented, and all the questions which could possibly be raised were at the time of these hearings fully discussed, and the conclusion of the Labor Board was reached after exhaustive consideration of the facts before them, and they also considered all other facts that seemed to be relevant. Detailed information as to the reasons for their conclusions is contained in the opinions of the Labor Board.

This railroad has accepted and put into effect in good faith every increase granted to its employees by the Labor Board. It has obeyed every rule of the Labor Board affecting it, and, consequently, enters the situation with absolutely clean hands. As above stated, it has done nothing to evade the Transportation Act, as is claimed of some roads.

In this state of affairs it will be observed that the employees are asked to consider striking against the rulings of a constituted Governmental authority acting entirely within that authority. It is hard to understand how this railroad can do anything in this case except carry out the decision of the Labor Board. I feel sure that public opinion will not countenance a strike on such a basis and that disaster only can ensue if such a course is persisted in. I earnestly believe that this is also the mature judgment of a great number of our men.

To all students of the conditions of the times it is thoroughly apparent that this situation is only a continuation of the inevitable adjustment which is going on in all wages which were increased as a result of war conditions. Shippers have been insistent upon reductions in rates, and the Interstate Commerce Commission has just put into effect a decrease in rates which must be met by some decrease in expenses. The railroads for the year ended December 31st, 1921, earned 3.31% on the value of their property as established by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and for the four months ended April 30th, 1922, which is the latest date for which we have statistics, they only earned 4.36% on such value. Surely this cannot be considered by anyone as an adequate interest return. Railroad employees know that in their own investments they rightfully demand a much higher rate of interest than this.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company desires to work on the very closest basis with its employees, realizing that such a state of affairs produces a much better result in every direction than can a contrary policy. It has therefore been my desire to bring about such a relationship between the employees and the Company that will produce the best results in the operation of the railroad, because the splendid feeling that cooperation and mutual esteem always create is bound to result in financial and other consequences of a splendid nature.

Many of our employees have been working for the railroad a great many years with the greatest harmony. I sincerely trust that they may work with the Company a great many more.

In the event our men decide on drastic action, it is, of course, incumbent upon the Management to operate the railroad in order that the public may be served.

W. J. HARRAHAN,
President

WRIGHT HURLS WINNER FOR WINCHESTER TEAM.

Winchester, Ky., June 29. — "Rasty" Wright, pitching ace of the Winchester team, held the Lexington nine to three scattered hits today and the Dodgers defeated the Studebakers by the score of 3 to 1. Monhollen of Lexington was also in good form allowing only five hits, but two of these, bunched with a walk and two errors gave Winchester three runs and the game in the fourth inning. Score:

Innings . . . 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Batteries — Monhollen and Kelly; Wright and Frazier.

Cynthiana Wins.

Cynthiana, Ky., June 29. — Cynthia played errorless ball behind the good pitching of Rorer and Reh Kemp this afternoon and the local team shut out the Paris team 3 to 0. A double play in which two men were put out on the plate after three Paris batters had singled in succession in the sixth inning was the feature of the game. Score:

Innings . . . 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Paris . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 — 0 8 4
Cynthiana . . . 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0 0 — 3 7 0
Batteries — Willis and Dugan; Rorer, Reh Kemp and Willie, Melvian.

AMERICAN WOMEN ARE CARELESS.

Women are too apt to overestimate their strength and overtax it. When feeling well they take unnecessary chances, which in the long run cause much pain and trouble. Wet feet, exposure to cold, lifting heavy burdens and overwork will often develop troubles which cause no end of suffering. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing remedy in such cases. Thousands of American women will testify to this fact who have regained health and strength by its use. If you are suffering it will pay you to give it a fair trial.

John Hurst Adams, formerly principal of the Minerva High School, now managing editor of the Franklin Evening Star, Franklin, Ind., passed through Maysville Friday morning en route to Minerva to spend a part of his vacation with friends.

CARDINALS DEFEAT

ESSEX—AS USUAL.

As often as Mt. Sterling has taken defeat at the hands of the other clubs of the Bluegrass League they certainly act unaccustomed to it. As usual the Cardinals administered their dose to the Essex, this time after a hard struggle, the game not being decided until the late innings which made it all the harder for them to realize that the Cards have the best club. Other than the score and a few minor details of the game no information can be had, the official scorer failing to give his report and the long distance operators refusing to cooperate with our operators, as is the custom on the days when games are scheduled in the league. After one of our local operators had been refused by a Mt. Sterling girl as to the result, she sure told her what poor sports they were.

The final score was 11 to 8, the game being marked by five home runs, three going to the Cards by Slayback, Connelly and Class, and two by the Essex by Blake and Monk. Bosken started the game and was relieved by Elsmann in the fifth after he had yielded five or six runs. By the seventh the Cards had tied the score 8 to 8 when Class broke the clinch with his homer. The services of Townsend and Eggleston were both required for duty on the mound for the Essex.
